Dear readers,

Mandela Day is an annual global celebration that takes place on 18 July to honour the life and legacy of Nelson Mandela. This day is a call to action for individuals, communities, and organisations to take time to reflect on Mandela's values and principles and to make a positive impact in their own communities. Mandela Day indeed holds great significance worldwide as a day dedicated to honoring Nelson Mandela's remarkable legacy. It serves as a reminder for everyone to embody Mandela's values of compassion, forgiveness, and commitment to social justice. People are encouraged to contribute to their communities through acts of kindness and service, promoting a spirit of unity and positive change. It's a powerful annual reminder of the impact individuals can make in Chanel Rautenbach MGSA journey.

My MGSA journey.

From the moment finding out that I, was a finalist till taking my last step off the stage of Miss Grand was such a magical experience.

Over the past few months I have learned so much, not only about Miss Grand but also about myself. Miss Grand advocates to stop the war and violence, throughout my journey I, have become so passionate to educate others on this topic and make active change in our community.

Myself and Master Lenord hosted a self defence class for women where we spoke to them about violence and how to look out for it as-well as practical examples on how to defend yourself. I also did a podcast with my co-host about raising awareness about gender based violence and what signs to look for in your relationship as-well as a interview with Monica Le Hanie to raise awareness about lupus.

When it came to my advocacy Huis Belinda I, raised funds to buy and gift the children with some sweet treats and necessities they need in their household.One of the highlights of my journey was meeting all the and our previous reigning Miss Grand Gugu Mayisela at our workshop, they are all such powerful and graceful woman. Throughout my journey I, found so much inspiration for what I, want in my future and I, have learned so many new skills to apply in my life.

Soon after that we went for our evening wear fitting at New Romantics Couture that sponsored our beautiful dresses and casual wear corsets. I also then started designing my swimwear for the final evening that was then custom made by Emma Jane Designs. Just like that it came to our final evening at Emperors palace. I would never be able to describe how amazing that night was, while I was on stage waiting for them to announce the Top 10 my heart skipped a beat when I heard my name, followed by my stop the war and violence speech. Soon after that it was time for the crowning, I was awarded Miss Photogenic and I couldn't be more thankful, it was such a special few seconds of my night when I recived my sash.

A few minutes after our reigning queen Sharne Dheochand was crowned and I would like to give a heartfelt congratulations to her.

I would also like to thank everyone who was with me every step of the way you all will always have a place close to my heart.

We at Media House would like to congratulat you Chanel I'm so proud of you, you were a wonderful Ambassador to the magazine, it's an honour to know you.

Blessings on your life journey.

When you become frustrated

"When you become frustrated with older people because of what they cannot do, think of how frustrated they must feel because they can no longer do it."

It's easy to feel a surge of frustration when an older loved one struggles with tasks that once seemed simple for them.

Watching them grapple with technology, forgetful moments, or physical limitations can test our patience. However, in these moments, it's essential to remember that our frustration is but a shadow of what they must be experiencing internally.

In the grand tapestry of life, the roles we play often shift. Today, we may be the ones offering support; tomorrow, we might find ourselves in need of it.

By approaching our older loved ones with empathy, we honor their journey and enrich our own, creating a legacy of compassion that transcends generations. ❤️🌞
