Geweld in ons land is aan die toeneem en dit is net asof dinge toetaal en al hand uitruk. Mense dink as jy nie daaroor praat nie gaan dit beter word of wil nie betrokke raak nie.

Dit is vir my baie hartseer dat kinders die slagoffers is en vroue laat dit maar toe.

Wat het geword van die mense,? kyk jy op Facebook of Tiktok is dit net negatiewe goed.

Waaar is die mooi heen? Is dit nou maar wat ons land se toekom is?

Pa's wat dit aan hulle gesinne doen? Ag nee man hoe het jy groot geword, kom jy uit `n huis waar daar geweld was? Die vrae hou net die op nie en daar is nie antwoorde op die vrae nie.

Ek groet dan tot volgende maand, geniet als wat jy doen. Maak die beste van elke dag! Wees dankbaar

What is friendship??

Friendship is a special relationship between two or more people who care about each other and enjoy spending time together. It is a bond built on trust, mutual respect, and support.

What is the true meaning of friendship?

A true friend is more than just a companion-they are someone who offers unconditional support, loyalty, and understanding.

Why is friendship very important?

 Raise your sense of connection, belongings and purpose. Boost your happiness and lower your stress.

If you found your pack hold on to them so tied and never let them go.
To this two amazing ladies Handelien and Tonette, I want to say thank you for always being next to my side when I needed you. We can be silly together but also in a time of need to listen they are there.

The laughter we share will always be my best memories with you. For more memories to come. Have a fabulous spring month my friends.

Love always Lettie

Childline HELP Phone 116

A third of girls in South Africa experience some form of violence, often from someone they know. Violence against children remains a critical challenge facing South African society today, despite tremendous efforts to curb this scourge.

What are the 5 rights a child has under the child protection act?

Children, know your rights and responsibilities.
Understanding children's rights

A name and a nationality from birth. Family care or parental care, or to appropriate alternative care when removed from the family environment. Basic nutrition, shelter, basic health care services and social services. Be protected from maltreatment, neglect, abuse or degradation.

In the context of this policy, Domestic Abuse is included with reference to individuals who are considered to be adults at risk.

The cross-government definition of domestic violence and abuse is: any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse between those aged 16 or over who are, or have been, intimate partners or family members regardless of gender or sexuality. The abuse can encompass, but is not limited to:

Physical AbuseIn South Africa, a mother can lose custody of her child if it's determined by the court that doing so is in the child's best interests. This can happen due to various factors, including abuse, neglect, or an unstable living environment.

2. Domestic AbusePhysical Abuse:

Concrete evidence of physical harm to the child can lead to custody loss.

Emotional Abuse:

While harder to prove, emotional abuse, such as constant criticism or threats, can also be grounds.

Neglect:

Failure to provide basic needs like food, shelter, clothing, and healthcare can lead to a custody change.

Substance Abuse:

If substance abuse impairs a mother's ability to care for the child, it can be a significant factor.

3. Sexual Abuse

4. Psychological Abuse

5. Financial or Material Abuse

6. Modern Slavery

Common Mistakes To Avoid - while you makeup

Common Mistakes To Avoid Makeup is a great way to enhance your natural beauty, but even a small misstep can affect the final look. Avoiding these common mistakes can help ensure a flawless finish every time.

1. Skipping Primer: Applying foundation directly on the skin can cause the product to settle into fine lines and look uneven.

2. Using The Wrong Shade Of Foundation: Test the foundation on your jawline, and not your hand in natural light before buying. Ensure your neck and face are the same color before heading out.

3. Applying Too Much Concealer: Use a small amount of concealer and focus on dabbing it gently with a brush or sponge. You can also always add on more product if needed, however, you cannot remove extra product without causing a mess.

4. Not Setting Your Makeup: After applying your foundation and concealer, use a translucent powder to set your makeup.

5. Skipping Lip Liner: Always outline your lips with a lip liner that matches your lipstick or lip gloss shade.

This prevents and ensures a neat finish.

6. Overdoing Blush Or Bronzer: Apply the blush or bronzer lightly. Build up the color gradually, focusing on the areas where the sun naturally hits your face. Blend well to avoid harsh lines.

7. Using Dirty Makeup Brushes: Clean your brushes regularly. This ensures a smoother makeup application and prevents skin irritation.

8. Neglecting Eyebrows: Use a brow pencil or powder that matches your natural hair color and use small, light strokes to fill in sparse areas.

9. Overlining Lips: Line just slightly outside your natural lip line if you want fuller lips. Use a nude or lip color that compliments your lips.

10. Not Blending Enough: Blend everything from foundation to eyeshadow and contour thoroughly. A good blending brush or sponge can make all the difference.

The key to great makeup is in the details. By keeping these tips in mind, you will look and feel your best.

How to choose a furfume - find your signature scent...

To choose a perfume, consider your personal preferences, the occasion, and the season. Start by identifying which fragrance families (floral, fruity, woody, oriental) you are most drawn to.

Then, test the fragrance on your skin, as it will smell different on everyone, and allow it to develop over time to see how the scent evolves. Consider the intensity of the perfume (e.g., Eau de Parfum, Eau de Toilette) and whether it matches the occasion or season.

Don't be afraid to experiment with layering different scents to create a unique fragrance.

Understand Fragrance Families:

Floral: Classic, feminine, often includes notes of roses, jasmine, lilies, etc.

Fruity: Light, refreshing, sweet, with notes of berries, citrus, etc.
Woody: Earthy, warm, with notes of sandalwood, cedarwood, vetiver, etc.

Oriental: Rich, exotic, spicy, with notes of vanilla, amber, musk, etc.

Test the Fragrance:

Skin Test:

Apply the perfume to your wrist or inner elbow. This allows you to experience how the fragrance reacts with your body chemistry, as scents can smell different on everyone.

Allow Time:

Wait for the fragrance to settle and develop over a few hours. This allows you to experience the top, middle, and base notes, and see how long it lasts.

Consider the Season:

Light, fresh scents are generally better for summer, while richer, deeper scents are more suitable for winter.

Consider the Occasion:

Everyday: Choose a light, fresh, or subtle scent for daytime wear.
Special Occasions: Opt for a more intense, sophisticated scent for evenings or special events.

Don't Be Afraid to Experiment:
Layering:

Try layering different scents to create a unique fragrance that reflects your personality.

Sample Sizes:

Start with samples or travel-sized bottles to test out new fragrances before committing to a full-sized bottle.

5. Trust Your Instincts:

Personal Preference: Ultimately, choose a fragrance that you love and that makes you feel confident and comfortable.

Summer trends for happy feet, comfort is the key word

The summer 2025 shoe trends are a variety show, featuring a little bit of this, a little bit of that, and a whole lot of fun. Not only does the motley mix of summer shoes create a rather entertaining spectacle—dare-devil clogs and high-flying pumps followed by quirky retro sneakers and sultry slingback heels that leave you wanting more—but the shoes trending this summer ensure everyone in the crowd leaves satisfied.

Classic headliners that are always great additions to off-duty beach outfits are back and better than ever. By Malene Birger showed leather flip-flops to replace the ones you've worn beyond repair, and The Row's easy slides are no-brainers for when it's too hot to fuss around in a heel. Then come the more experimental acts: Ferragamo's Maximilian Davis, for one, trimmed his thong sandals with candy-colored fringe and set them on a spherical cork heel. 2025's belt-buckle trend that's cinching tote bags, tank tops, and summer dresses also finally makes its way down to the foot, with Khaite and Balenciaga fastening D-rings and silver clamps to open-toed sandals.

In sum, the shoe trends setting the stage for summer 2025 have something for every kind of shopper, from the traditional and minimal to the adventurous dressers seeking something new. Get a leg up on the shoes stylish women will be wearing all season with the well-rounded edit ahead.

Proper list of summer shoe trends always includes thong sandals in some form. But this season, designers upped the flip-flop ante through thoughtful design tweaks, both aesthetically and architecturally.

From sandals rendered in snakeskin and unexpected color combinations and straps sculpted up to the ankle and elongated into boot hybrids (Dior's Maria Grazia Chiuri was clearly feeling inventive for the fashion house's Pre-Fall 2025 show), summer's thongs are flashier than your usual rubber-flip flops.

Fashion colours trends

In 2025, fashion is predicted to embrace a mix of earthy and vibrant hues, with a focus on both comfort and bold statements. Key colors include "Mocha Mousse" brown, butter yellow, paprika red, mint green, dusty pink, and cobalt blue. Ethereal blues, like icy blue and periwinkle, are also gaining traction, alongside metallic gold and silver accents.

South African fashion is embracing a diverse palette, with a blend of bold and earthy tones. Expect to see vibrant hues like electric blue and sunny yellow alongside nature-inspired shades such as earthy greens, browns, and terracotta. Additionally, soft pastels like lavender and blush pink are predicted to be popular, offering a touch of femininity.

Bold and Vibrant:
Electric blue, sunny yellow, and fuchsia will make a statement, often paired with softer pastels for contrast.
Earthy Tones:
Shades of brown, green, and rust will bring a natural, organic feel, reflecting a growing trend of sustainability and nature-inspired design.
Soft Pastels:
Lavender, baby blue, and blush pink will add a touch of romance and femininity to outfits.

Earth greens, warm browns, and terracotta shades will be popular, emphasizing a connection to nature.
Sustainability:
Locally produced textiles with water-resistant properties and natural waxes are also gaining traction.

Here's a more detailed look at the trends:- Colors:

Powder Pink: A soft, romantic shade that will be seen in everything from dresses to tops.
Butter Yellow: A cheerful, sunny hue that will brighten up your summer wardrobe.
Bold Accents: Expect to see flashes of bright red, green, and marigold in accessories and statement pieces.
Mocha Mousse: A warm, neutral shade that adds a touch of sophistication.
Silhouettes & Fabrics:
Asymmetrical Hemlines: A playful way to add visual interest to skirts and dresses.
Strapless Tops: A classic summer style making a comeback.
Tulle and Sheer Fabrics: Adding a touch of romance and airiness to outfits.
Lightweight Cottons and Linens: Essential for staying cool and comfortable in the summer heat.
Fringe: A fun, bohemian detail that adds movement and texture.

Boho Chic: Expect to see flowing dresses, long pendant necklaces, and a general sense of relaxed elegance.

Athletic Inspired: Comfortable and practical pieces with a sporty edge.

Specific Items to Look Out For:

Mini Dresses: A classic summer staple that will be seen in a variety of styles and fabrics.

White Lace Midi Skirts: A romantic and feminine piece.

Hammock Tops: A unique and stylish top that offers a different silhouette.

Cord Necklaces: A simple yet stylish accessory that adds a touch of texture.

Leather Belts: Used to cinch in waists and add a polished touch to outfits.

White Button-Downs: A versatile piece that can be styled in numerous ways.
