Happy Spring..

Dear reader,

There is a lot of things that is going on in my life right now. It's funny how things work out when you least expect it. I'm very happy to have people in my life that I can depend on. They support me every step of the way.

Sometimes I have the strangest ideas but they will always support me, they will believe in me when I don't believe in myself. My family is my biggest support system.

They have patience with me and will allow me that alone time that I sometimes need.

I can not believe it's September month and that we're heading towards the end of the year.

My life has been so crazy lately, a woman asked me if I have the contact number of a gentleman that is friends with me on Facebook. I contacted him and got hold of him, it so happened that the woman is his daughter and that she was searching for him the past two years, now she finally found him.

Still busy with the fund-raising for Madelein to pay her medical bills.

We are also busy with the Cupcake drive for Angle Wings. Then I'm doing both the magazine's, but this is me doing what I love to do.

Thank you to Mrs SA Globe 2019 - Erika Breyenbach, it's a honour to have you on our cover-page. Read the article about Erika on page 8.
Celebrate Spring, buy flowers for the office, home or a friend, spread the love and sunshine where ever you go.
Remember September is Cancer awareness month.
Support a Cancer organisation close to you.

Take care till next time, don't miss out on all the fun!

We care! Do you care?

With the crowning of 2014 winner the beautiful Janet Potgieter, came new opportunities, dynamics and movement to give dignity back. “Think about what you will say to someone if you can’t give then hope.” The truth behind these came back to haunt Janet when she stood between 42 000 people in Bulengo Displacement Camp in North - Kivu in the Eastern Democratic Republic of the Congo, a mere 6 weeks after won this prestigious title.

Meeting extraordinary women in horrific circumstances, she learnt that you CAN GIVE SOMEONE AT LEAST THEIR DIGNITY BACK.

Dignity Dream

Let’s stand together and get INVOLVED in making a difference in someone’s life and give back their dignity. By donating you can keep a girl child in school during menstrual cycles for up to 4 years.

A section 18A will be issued to you for the total amount.

Movie Review

THE LION KING

Director:
Jon Favreau.

Producers:
Jon Favreau, Jeffrey Silver, Karen Gilchrist

Our Rating: ★★★★

Simba idolizes his father, King Mufasa, and takes to heart his own royal destiny on the plains of Africa. But not everyone in the kingdom celebrates the new cub's arrival. Scar, Mufasa's brother -- and former heir to the throne -- has plans of his own. The battle for Pride Rock is soon ravaged with betrayal, tragedy and drama, ultimately resulting in Simba's exile. Now, with help from a curious pair of newfound friends, Simba must figure out how to grow up and take back what is rightfully his.

It's not that the new Lion King is a bad film—in fact, it is a perfectly competent, and sometimes visually dazzling film. The story still holds up, as noble Lion King Mufasa (powerfully, yet tenderly voiced, as in the original, by James Earl Jones) is killed due to the machinations of his scheming brother Scar (Chiwetel Ejiofor), who then succeeds in making Mufasa's son/cub Simba (and rightful heir) feel mighty guilty. The young Simba flees (and is presumed dead), the kingdom become Scar's (aided by a pack of hyenas), years pass, and it is left to Simba's friend Nala (Beyonce) to set things in motion to make things right. Favreau and his craftsmen follow the story fairly faithfully (although this version clocks in twenty minutes longer—you feel it); some of the CGI is so "real" that it occasionally seems like you're watching a restored Disney wildlife film from the 1960s. The voice actors are pretty capable, ranging from Chiwetel Eliofor's proudly duplicitous Scar to Donald Glover's Simba, to his companions Timon and Pumbaa (Billy Eichner and Seth Rogen).

Yet for all the verisimilitude on display, this new Lion King lacks the emotional impact the original had. While I was watching it, I felt a profound disconnect between the images and the voices. It's as if they were two separate entities, so I was always aware that it was Glover or Rogen—not the characters they played. It was hard to be swept up in the proceedings—I found myself admiring elements on a technical level, but these did not coalesce into a moving, complete movie experience. I will say that the kids in the audience liked it (and I daresay many of the adults did).

If you did not watched this movie yet, make sure not to miss out a great movie whiles spending time with the family.

don't forget to grab the pop-corn.
