CELESTé BAM

Hallo Hoërskool vriende!

Is julle okay? Haal julle steeds asem te midde van die eksamen-chaos? Ek weet die stres is deur die dak, en dit voel of jy in jou notas en boeke verdrink. Hou vas, julle is amper by die wenstreep, en dan kan julle, julle welverdiende wintervakansie geniet!

In my familie het ons nege tieners wat tans kniediep in eksamens is. Twee van hulle is vanjaar in matriek. Ek het besef waardeur julle nou gaan, is 'n heel ander balspel as my hoërskooldae.

Ek bewonder regtig julle veerkragtigheid. Die druk wat julle vandag ondervind, is intens. Sosiale media is in volle swang, en huiswerk kom via WhatsApp. Destyds het ons nie eens ons onderwysers se telefoonnommers gehad nie, nevermind nog aan ’n “Graad 10 Afrikaans” WhatsApp-groep behoort waar al die inligting gedeel word.

Julle juggle met toesprake, opdragte, sport, koor, huiswerk, klastoetse en ekstra klasse vir wiskunde, wetenskap en rekeningkunde, alles terwyl julle voorberei vir eksamens. Dit is alles behalwe maklik. Ek kan my indink hoe uitgeput julle is, tog moet julle nog leër vir daardie groot wiskunde- of rekeningkunde-toets wat voolê.

Ek dink die hoofpunt van hierdie berig is om julle te laat weet dat ek aan julle dink. Hou aan om deur te druk. Julle doen dit vir julle toekoms, en daardie gevoel van prestasie wanneer julle, jul swaarverdiende punte volgende kwartaal sien, sal ongelooflik lonend wees.

Dink aan julle, kiddo’s — spesiale shoutout aan Johan, Amoré, Lizzy, Luandre, Nicole, Kylie, Clifford, Meilene en Zeldine. You’ve got this!

CELESTé BAM

Hey there!

Winter is upon us, and while some of us are cozying up with warm hot chocolate and electric blankets, there's one frosty annoyance that drives me crazy: Damp towels that never seem to dry!

You know the drill – you step out of a hot shower/bath only to be greeted by a soggy, musty-smelling towel. That means more laundry, and let's be honest, drying clothes in winter feels like waiting for paint to dry.

But fear not, my chilly friends, for I have discovered a game-changer that has transformed my bathroom (and my life)! Drum roll, please... Introducing the magical, the magnificent, the moisture absorber! This little wonder soaks up all that pesky excess moisture, keeping mold at bay. Plus, it's super affordable and available at your local supermarket. Talk about a win-win!

These bad boys don't just work wonders in the bathroom. They also come in handy little hangable packs for your closet, ensuring your clothes stay fresh and fabulous. Seriously, this product is the Greatest of All Time (GOAT) in moisture control.

I never thought I'd get this excited about a household product, but here I am, singing its praises like it's the latest hit single. Maybe it's a sign of getting older, but if loving dry towels and fresh-smelling clothes is wrong, I don't want to be right!

Give it a try and let me know if this little miracle worker changed your life as much as it did mine. I'd love to hear your feedback! Drop me a line at: admin@topvibe.co.za

Stay dry and happy,

In kleur pret...

Why do kids hate haircuts

Your child might also be afraid or uncomfortable with haircuts because they've had a negative experience with a haircut somewhere along the way. Or maybe they don't like to be touched or don't deal well with unfamiliar places. Or perhaps your child has special needs or sensory differences.

How do you help a child who hates haircuts?

Parents Say: When your child hates haircuts

Ease the fear.

Go with the pros.

Get tricky.

Sweeten the deal.

Find a distraction.

Do it in waves.

Work it out with TLC.

Try tough love.

How to convince your child to get a haircut?

Take your child to the salon or barbershop ahead of time to see what the shop looks like. Show your child videos of people getting haircuts (using both scissors and clippers) or stop by the salon to watch people get their haircut. Play! Use pretend play to act out what getting a haircut will look like.

Why does my 2 year old hate haircuts?

The way to soothe haircut fears and tears will vary because every child has different reasons for not liking haircuts. Maybe it's the noise of the scissors or clippers, maybe it's the strange environment of the barbershop or salon, or maybe it's just the fact that someone is trying to remove something from Baby's head!

Do autistic kids hate haircuts?

Many kids on the spectrum also have sensory issues and hate having their hair cut. It is as if the act of cutting causes them physical pain - like they have feeling in their hair! "Over the years we have persevered and whilst it is still something of a tactical operation we seemed to have more or less cracked it.

Are autistic kids scared of haircuts?

Going to the hairdressers can be a very distressing experience for autistic children due to sensory issues such as a sensitivity to noise and touch.

Why do autistic kids look away?

Researchers believe that this seemingly anti-social behavior is rooted in complex brain processes, the misinterpretation of visual cues and functional coping mechanisms. People on spectrum have described looking into someone's eyes as a terrifying experience.

Our top winter warmer tips to

Keep your pets warm this winter

Even with a lovely big coat of fur, our pets can really feel the cold too.
Certain breeds of dogs like chihuahuas and greyhounds need more warmth than others, along with older pets, or ones suffering with arthritis and other medical conditions. Rug up with our top tips to keep your pet warm in winter.

Warm clothing (coats and jumpers)
Nothing warms our hearts faster than seeing a puppy or kitten in a super cute jumper.

In reality, they provide some much-needed warmth, particularly for our short-coated friends.

There are so many options nowadays when it comes to coats and jackets for our furry family members. Have a favourite football team? There's a dog jacket for that!

Winter grooming routine.

Cat being brushed Our cats and dogs' coat is their main source of warmth.
While we may be tempted to let their coats grow long during the chilly months to keep them warm, a winter grooming routine is important.
Regular grooming will not only keep your fur babies comfortable but also avoid skin problems, matting and reduce shedding.
Winter weather is often wet and damp, with mud, puddles, and wet grass being common, so our outdoor pets tend to be more prone to dirty coats, knots and matting. Also, remember if you're washing your dog it's best to bath them indoors with warm water and dry them off fully with a warm towel before they are allowed back outside.

Slegs 11 reëls!

'n Wyse man het by ’n hoërskool opgetree en 11 reëls genoem wat ’n kind nooit ooit in ’n skool sal leer nie:

1. Die lewe is nie regverdig nie, so raak gewoond daaraan.

2. Die wêreld gee nie ’n duit om vir jou selfrespek nie.

3. Jy sal nie R240 000 ’n jaar verdien net nadat jy skool verlaat het nie. Jy sal nie as ’n ondervoorsitter aangestel word met ’n maatskappymotor totdat jy dit verdien nie.

4. As jy dink jou onderwyser was moeilik, wag totdat jy ’n baas het.

5. Om hamburgers by Spur te maak, is nie benede jou waardigheid nie. Jou oupa-hulle het ’n ander woord gehad vir “hamburgers maak.” ’n Mens noem dit ’n geleentheid.

6. Wanneer jy ’n gemors maak, is dit nie jou ouers se skuld nie. Moenie daaroor tjank nie. Leer daaruit.

7. Voor jou geboorte was jou ouers nie so “boring” soos nou nie. Hulle moes hulle afsloof vir jou. Voordat jy dink jy is “cool”, pak liewer jou “hool” reg.

8. Skole wil wegdoen met prestasies, maar die lewe het nie en gaan ook nie. Jy kry genoeg tyd om met 30% in ’n vak te slaag. In die lewe is daar niks wat hiermee ooreenstem nie.

9. Die lewe is nie verdeel in skoolkwartale nie. Daar is nie so iets soos lekker lang vakansies by die see nie. Werkgewers stel nie daarin belang om jou te help om jouself te vind nie. Doen dit in jou eie tyd.

10. Wat jy op TV sien, is nie werklik nie. Dit is egter werklik om op te staan voor daardie TV, die afstandbeheer, die foontjie en die speletjie neer te sit en te gaan werk vir jou voortbestaan.

11. “Be nice to nerds,” die kanse is goed dat jy dalk vir een gaan werk.
